Dear Friends in Jesus Christ,

A woman was shopping for a new dress and found the most stunning creation she had ever seen in her life, but it was too expensive: $750.00. She knew that she couldn't afford it, but she wanted to try the dress on to see how she looked in it. So she tried the dress on and found that she looked very beautiful in it. She thought that if she didn't buy this rare piece of dress now, someone else will see it and buy it, so she bought it. That evening as she showed the dress to her husband and told him how beautiful she looked in the dress, the husband asked her how much she paid for it. When she told the cost of the dress, he actually had a fit. She explained that the temptation was more than she could resist. The husband told her that when you are tempted like that, you should tell the devil, "get behind me, Satan." She pleaded with her husband saying that is what I did, and the devil told me, it looks fantastic from the back too.

Yes, dear friends, temptations always attract us to something that looks good and beautiful even though we know that tempted things are not good for us in the long run, and that is the nature of temptation. As human beings, we all go through different types of temptation on different occasions. In today's Gospel, we reflect upon the three temptations Jesus had to face in His life. Sometimes people justify temptations in their life referring to the temptations of Jesus saying that even the Son of God was not spared from being tempted, so how can we? I want to remind you that this is not the right kind of justification. Here, the temptations of Jesus should be seen as one of occasions where Jesus is identifying Himself with each one of us, just like He identified Himself with each one of us by taking the form of a human being. Thus, facing temptations in His life, Jesus clearly teaches us how to face temptations in our lives, in communion with His Father.

Yes, temptations are part and parcel of life. Being tempted is not a sin, but falling into temptation is a sin, and we should understand that it is an act of selfishness. We know that the life of Jesus was not of selfishness but of generosity. Jesus willingly gave up His entire life for our own well-being. The same way, as Christians, each one of us is called to be more generous towards God and our fellow brethren. At the same time, through the Gospel of today, Jesus reminds us that it is not that easy to be generous or live without temptation, because the Book of Genesis 4:7 says, "... sin is crouching at your door of life; it desires to have you..." Again 1 Peter 5:8 says "Be alert and of sober mind, your enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to eat." So Be Careful!

Yes, dear friends, the season of Lent demands a lot more attention and care from each one of us to live an authentic Christian life. This is the reason Jesus says in Matthew 11:16, "You must be clever as snakes and innocent as doves". Yes, dear friends, temptations or the presence of evil in this world is a reality, and without the grace of God, it is really hard to defeat them. Now, to attain the grace of God to defeat devil, the Bible prescribed three medicines for us on the first day of our Lenten season on Ash Wednesday; repentance, fasting, almsgiving and Prayer. Yes, repentance leads fasting, fasting or self-donation leads to almsgiving, almsgiving is a sign of reconciliation with brethren, reconciliation leads to prayer and prayer is a communion with God. Thus, following the prescriptions given by God, let us make our Lenten Journey, a special one with God. God Bless You with a fruitful season of LENT.
